YOU'RE NEVER ALONE (from the Desire album)

I see you standing, in the darkness
Could it be you need someone to talk to
A little confused now, do you need direction
Maybe some love and a little affection

You said you could never believe it
When I said that I never would leave you

You're never alone (I see you in the darkness)
You're never alone (I'll help you to the light)
You're never alone (I'm standing right beside you)
You're never alone

It's all up to you now, the road that you're taking
It's up to you the choice that you're making
Where are you running, why are you driven
You could have hope, turn around and start living

Hebrews 13:5 – 6
